To Standing Committee on Finance
From Johan Burger, CEO: FirstRand
Subject FirstRand’s submission on progress on transformation
Date 10 March 2017

FirstRand welcomes the opportunity to present its submission to Parliament on the progress the business has made in addressing transformation and inclusivity.

Since the creation of the FirstRand group in 1998, we have recognised the imperative of creating an economy and a society that is completely inclusive, as this will ensure a sustainable and prosperous future, particularly for generations to come.

We believe these hearings represent an opportunity for healthy dialogue, and will demonstrate that both FirstRand and the sector we operate within take transformation and inclusiveness extremely seriously, and continue to make good progress. We acknowledge that there is still much more to do, but hopefully the information contained in our submission and our presentation will address any concerns that we are not fully committed to creating an equal and sustainable society.

We strongly believe the banking sector is a national asset for the country. It is highly regarded throughout the world and is integral to the South African economy. It has an unparalleled set of tools that have already demonstrably been put to work for the people of this country, from credit to buy a home or fund a student loan, to cheap and accessible channels to transact and pay bills and send money home. We have funded large corporates and SMEs to facilitate the creation of jobs and build capacity and we have put our balance sheets to work to create transformational infrastructure in line with the objectives of the National Development Plan.

Of course our stakeholders have also benefited from these initiatives, but a commercially sound and profitable banking system is a non-negotiable. Examples from around the world have demonstrated the devastation that results from banking crises: job losses, recession and social unrest.

There can be no trade-off between maintaining a sound banking system and driving transformation and inclusivity, they are fundamentally complimentary objectives and the latter will never become a reality if the economy falters.

We look forward to a substantive and constructive debate and thank you for this opportunity.

We understand our role in ensuring a sustainable future for the country

SOUTH AFRICA needs:

Transformation & Inclusivity

Banks are very IMPORTANT TOOLS in delivering transformation and inclusivity
Measuring our progress against the FSC framework

We recognise the imperative
Dealing with the ownership imperative: FirstRand’s BEE transaction

Transaction concluded in 2005

broad based

We are proud of our progress in employment equity

Contextualising progress in top management: supply has been one of the constraints.

Using supply of Chartered Accountants as a proxy:

Policy mistakes can lead to bank failures

Bank failures require bailouts from government/taxpayers

- Since 2012 RMB has committed an average of R10.5 billion per year to new transformational infrastructure projects
- Of the total R53 billion in funding:
  - R21 billion went to renewable energy projects representing RMB’s commitment to clean energy,
  - R10.5 billion went to initiatives run by municipalities or SOEs, reflecting an ongoing collaboration with the public sector to increase SA's potential for economic growth and development and R5.5 billion went to transport projects to strengthen the infrastructure required for SA's multi-modal transportation system.
  - In 2014, RMB advised Alstom on the R51 billion Gibela project which was a historic agreement with PRASA to supply 600 passenger trains between 2015 and 2025.
Inclusive growth: RMB empowering BEE hedge fund managers and brokers

- RMB, through its Prime Services division, assists BEE hedge fund managers in establishing successful asset management companies by providing:
  1. Seed funding capital to allow a fund to be established and grow in subsequent years based on proof of investment performance. The RMB seed funding “pool” was established in July 2012 with an initial size of R50m and increased to R100m in February 2014.
  2. Operational infrastructure which allows and supports BEE hedge fund managers to establish their business units.
  3. Experience and the ability to explain to pension fund trustees and other investors how the investment markets operate and give comfort as to security of assets in a hedge fund.

- RMB Morgan Stanley recently launched a programme that provides BEE brokers (who generally require technology to cater to a sophisticated client base) access to its Algo platform. This gives brokers the ability to offer large buy-side institutions access to Morgan Stanley Algo which would effectively execute trades on their behalf.
FRF/FREF provide R450 million of funding per annum for various systemic intervention initiatives
